

Understanding AT-RISK Intelligence

AT-RISK's Global Risk Intelligence Team helps you understand the changing landscape of an uncertain world. Our team can help protect you by identifying and analyzing threats, addressing concerns over easy access to private data and informing you of how international developments affect your organization. We also reduce uncertainty by answering the most complex questions about your security. In short, our Global Risk Intelligence Team helps guide you through decisions.

Services

Real-time Monitoring

The Global Risk Intelligence Team employs state-of-the-art online and social media monitoring techniques to provide rapid alerts and actionable intelligence to client stakeholders. Our real-time monitoring services help clients respond to critical incidents that pose a potential threat to their facilities, reputation, assets or personnel. Our monitoring services can make the difference between catastrophic and managed outcomes by mitigating the severity of such risks in a time-efficient manner.

Security and Risk Intelligence Analysis

AT-RISK's Global Risk Intelligence Team can provide routine, on-demand or event-driven analytical reports or presentations on a variety of risks relevant to our clients. We gather valuable intelligence through our established global networks and by leveraging advanced open-source intelligence (OSINT) collection. An intelligence product can cover a wide range of issues from due diligence, person or group of interest investigations, threat assessment investigations, travel risks, global security issues and protective intelligence assessments for corporate executives.

Intelligence lays the foundation for informed decisions

Strategy and Policy Development

Organizations are realizing the need to establish effective strategies and procedures that can prepare them for any number of threats – whether its crime, terrorism, workplace violence, insider threats or even natural disasters. AT-RISK understands the challenges that come with implementing these data-driven strategies into your company policies. Our Global Risk Intelligence Team has developed policies for Fortune 100 companies, and startup companies in emerging sectors alike. With our advanced research capabilities, we are prepared to guide your organization through this uncertain terrain.

Intelligence Program Design

Security leaders often struggle to find proactive solutions to risk. For companies looking to improve their security from within, an intelligence program developed by AT-RISK could be the answer. We take full advantage of our extensive industry knowledge to create and implement best-in-class intelligence programs for you and your organization.

Embedded Intelligence Services

Security leaders looking to expand their organization's intelligence capacities can do so through an embedded analyst or embedded analyst team. Our Global Risk Intelligence Team can provide dedicated personnel to assist clients, either from one of our office locations or at any global client location. Whether you require a single analyst or around-the-clock support, our team can recruit, train and manage intelligence professionals to meet your company's needs.
